IAF MD5:2019 : DETERMINATION OF AUDIT TIME | Tony Cunningham

The correct determination of the audit time for an initial audit (Stage 1 plus Stage 2) is an integral part of the application review for any client organization.

CABs shall identify the audit time of the Stage 1 and Stage 2 initial audit and of surveillance and re-certification audits for each applicant and certified client.

This mandatory document provides a framework that shall be utilized within a CAB's processes to determine appropriate audit time of management systems, taking into account the specifics of the client to be audited.

What is the RISK when Audit Time is not determined?

QUALITY RISK MANAGEMENT | Themba Hope Nxumalo

Quality Risk Management (QRM) is the process of identifying, evaluating, and mitigating recognized risks within the processes. An excellent Quality Risk Management programme can be created to reduce risk to a manageable level and deliver high-quality products to people.

ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT ASSESSMENT | Phathutshedzo Mukwevho

Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) is a process of evaluating the likely environmental impacts of a proposed project or development, taking into account inter-related socio-economic, cultural and human-health impacts, both beneficial and adverse.

This topic will provide some insights on how ISO14001:2015 auditing links with RAM and EIA

AUDITING ISO 14001:2015 CONFORMING EMSS, OR ARE WE? A CRITICAL SYNOPSIS OF THE REALITY – SEVEN YEARS ON | Ryan Nawn

This topic provides a high level, yet critical review of the type of ISO 14001:2015 fundamentals often not correctly audited, or even worse, not audited at all.
